

Guangsheng Temple

Guangsheng temple is famous at home and abroad for Zhao Cheng Jin Zang (Buddhism Sutra written in Jin Dynasty) and masterpieces of murals in Yuan Dynasty. There is one mural reflecting drama culture, which is not only a precious material for studying drama, but also a window to look into the society of Yuan Dynasty.

The 47-meter-high Feihong Pagoda in Guangsheng Temple was first built in Han Dynasty. It is also known as the Glazed Pagoda for colored glaze being inlaid into its exterior above the first floor.